Summary report on “LEADERSHIP SKILLS” value-added course

08.04.2024

Leadership skills encompass a range of abilities and traits that enable individuals to guide, motivate, and inspire others toward achieving common goals. These skills are essential in various contexts, including professional settings, community organizations, and personal relationships. Leadership is a multifaceted concept, and successful leaders often possess a combination of these skills, continually seeking opportunities for growth and development.

Objectives: To sensitize and orient the students regarding:

- Recognize different leadership styles and their implications for healthcare practice.
- Demonstration of proficiency in leading teams effectively, fostering collaboration and resolving conflicts constructively.
- Self-awareness and identify areas for personal growth as future healthcare leaders.

Resource persons:

Dr N Srinivas Rao, working as Professor in the department of General Medicine at MRMCW served as the principal resource person and was instrumental in preparing the algorithms and case scenarios for the students. He was supported by Dr G J D Rao and Dr Suma Priya for the successful completion of the course.
