Thyrocon 2026 Multidisciplinary Updates in Thyroid Cancer Management

THYROCON 2026 is a focused academic conference dedicated to advancing the multidisciplinary management of thyroid cancer. Designed for ENT surgeons, General Surgeons, and postgraduate trainees, the conference aims to bridge the gap between evolving evidence and everyday clinical practice. The scientific program features expert lectures, interactive case-based discussions, operative video sessions, live surgical demonstrations, and a postgraduate quiz, providing participants with practical insights into the diagnosis, surgical management, pathology, imaging, and multidisciplinary care of thyroid cancer.

We look forward to welcoming you to THYROCON 2026.
